High Tech and Consumer Electronics

We have significant experience of and exposure within the electronics sector. We have serviced some of the world's leading brands for 20 years on a local and global basis and have teams deployed in numerous manufacturing plants working hand in hand with our customers at the initial stages of the supply chain. We also have teams facilitating the final delivery to our customers or, in many cases, to our customers' customers, thus supporting the full supply chain from end to end.

Within this sector, product proliferation is the norm, cost reduction an ever present requirement and security an ever present challenge. Over the past twenty years we have developed a range of strategies to assist our customers in staying ahead of the game and ahead of their competitors. Our core mentality is never to be satisfied and always to question what can be done better. You will find us taking a multimodal approach to all movements, catering for new product releases or seasonal sales peaks, as well as proactively anticipating anything which could be a threat to getting your products where they need to be when you need them to be there.

Our specialist teams have inventory management and cost reduction as central pillars of their working ethos. They fully understand the challenges in this very competitive market place and work hand in hand with our customers to continuously identify ways of reducing stock and improving cash flow. They and our customers achieve this through the extensive use of linked IT systems and detailed transport planning.
